Lent

Dear friends,

Welcome to St Peters, we pray you find the teaching helpful and challenging, the worship uplifting. If you are new or visiting, we hope you feel welcome. To know more about the church, or to have someone contact you there are visitor cards available to be filled in.

On Thursday afternoon Randal Pearson's long battle with cancer came to an end and Randal went to be with his Lord. Give thanks to God for Randal's faith, and pray for Carol and the family as they mourn.

Thank you to those who responded to the questions for the strategy plan for the parish. These were helpful for parish council which met on Thursday night. If you have not responded and wish to it is not too late to get them to the group working on the plan.

Please pray for Clive Arkley, Anthea Walthew and John Tingay as they all recover from joint replacement surgery.

God Bless,

Neil

Lenten Social Justice

by Chaplain Ross, St Bart's

Lent means many things to many people. For some, it is a time for reflection and contemplation. For others, it is a time for renewal and refocus

The time of Lent for Christians is the six week preparation period for the Easter celebration of the death and resurrection, or the overcoming of death, of Jesus Christ. The Lenten season commences on Ash Wednesday, 26th February, and ends with the Easter celebrations that commence on Maundy Thursday, 9th April, through to Easter Sunday on 12th April.

Traditionally, the Lenten period is a refocusing time. Recommitting in effort in prayer, generosity, and focus on others. So we will often hear Christians talk about what they have given up for Lent.

Usually the answer is around a peripheral item in the individual's life, such as chocolate or coffee. Sometimes it's a more serious focus like no television for six weeks!

This has been rightly challenged as being a very self-focused approach. Mary Hood Hart has written well that the focus would be better if it was moved from self-improvement to self-giving—giving to others.

Our world today presents plenty of opportunities to assist others. Writing to a member of parliament on the need to raise the Newstart Allowance is one example. Supporting the Centre for Asylum Seekers, Refugees and Detainees is another. You could donate to St Bart's, a Wildlife sanctuary caring for animals affected by the Australian bushfire crisis, or any number of deserving organisations. Something as simple as having a lonely neighbour over for a meal can also have a huge impact.
