Faithlife Discounts Logos 8 Bible Software to Help Pastors and Church Leaders Continue Effective Ministry During COVID-19

BELLINGHAM, Wash., April 1, 2020 - Makers of Logos Bible Software, Faithlife, have made Logos 8—their widely used program trusted by renowned Bible scholars including John Piper, Kay Arthur and many more—available at a special 30% discount in hopes of lightening the new load many pastors and church leaders are experiencing in maintaining ministry operations and outreach during this season of social distancing.

“Ministry and church operations have been flipped upside down within recent weeks,” said Faithlife Founder and CEO Bob Pritchett. “In addition to being physically apart from many of their colleagues, these leaders now lack access to the many resources they rely on to do their jobs well. Logos 8 can fill in that gap by bringing a wealth of consult commentaries, devotionals, Bible dictionaries and so much more, straight to their phone, tablet or computer.”

In addition to this unprecedented Logos 8 discounted price, Faithlife has also extended its free trial to Faithlife Connect, a rich resource of uplifting entertainment designed to keep students and families connected with one another and God’s Word as they spend more time at home.

“We desire that making our Bible study resource Logos 8 more financially available is a blessing to those who are working so hard during these difficult days to make the rest of the world feel blessed,” said Pritchett. “It is vital that leaders continue to keep their cups filled, and it is our hope that these new discounts will make it easier for them to keep pouring.”
