

“Your Faith Has Saved You; Go In Peace”

Hello Friends:

Two young women were hiding under a staircase which was shielded by trees while another woman was in a home across the street, looking out the window, as we pulled up to distribute cookies, a wooden cross necklace, and a Bible tract. I jumped out of the car to talk to the two across the street, and my friend spoke with the one who now was opening the door of her house. All these ladies are drug addicted and in need of Jesus' love. One of the two looked at the cross and said, “I used to teach vacation Bible School at my church.” She then continued to tell me about the colors on the cross. Red which represented the blood of Christ, green representing growth, etc. My friend, on the other hand, was dealing with a lady and her sister who thought we were the police. When they realized we were there to bless and pray with them, things changed. Smiles came on the faces and heads were bowed as they received Jesus' love right where they were.

These are only the tip of an iceberg for many people on the streets in America. These are the ladies who most people call the lowest of the low, but God calls them “Treasures of Darkness.” They are his lambs who need the unconditional love of the Savior. They are the ones who have the broken spirits and contrite hearts and need Christ's love more than they know. They are run by fear of rejection and/or fear of getting hurt again and again. Yes, they have made choices which are not right, but we are not to judge or condemn them. We are here to lead them to Jesus. Won't you consider doing that for the Master?

What a wonderful opportunity to see the need and meet it!

WE GO OUT TO SEARCH FOR THE LOST!

KIDZ CLUB NEWS

New things are happening at Kidz Club! Every Tuesday and Thursday, beginning October 6, the Magdalene Project/Lighthouse Women's and Children's Center will be working with children from 10:00 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. downstairs at 1910 Falls St. Children will bring their laptops and receive supervised homework help. We will then have centers for them such as Legos, music, art, a sports element, and a lunch before they leave. There will be social distancing as children will sit at different tables and wear required masks. There are so many children in our city who need the support of others in the community. We wish to be an encouragement to them and support them in their time of need. Parents should call (716) 298-0908 to register.
