WEEKLY PLAN

Week 3: Love Is Riches

Love is patient, sweet, caring, and forgiving, but also rich. Rich upon riches that are not gold or green. God's love is greater than any fortune and more costly than any currency. God's love, the love that shapes and forms us, forgives our sins, and covers a multitude of our wrongs. Love is worth more than we could calculate and yet we often learn exactly how much it means, especially when we are parenting.

ACTIVITY TIME

DATE NIGHT

We understand that we love because God first loved us. A romantic type love is also something that our children will learn from their parents. The way they treat others on a date or the expectation they may have when on a date is something that must be learned. Make a plan and have a full date night with your teenagers. Think through the standards you would want your child to exhibit when on a date and model these behaviors. .
