with St Joseph's, Milford

Through the love of the Father, Son and Spirit, and as a sign lifted up for the peoples

Fifth Sunday of Lent

When I am lifted up from the earth, I will draw all people to myself.

At the start of Lent we hear about Jesus being driven into the wilderness by the Holy Spirit. On this last Sunday before we enter into Holy Week we hear a quite different way of describing how people come to him. He draws them to himself. It is a dynamic of attraction not of coercion or persuasion. It is the beauty of his love and his life that attracts our heart and that calls to our spirit. It is perhaps for this reason that aesthetics and beauty have become of increasing interest for the life and worship of the church in more recent years.

We see such beauty in the lives of the saints across the centuries, and the lives of the truly holy men and women among our brothers and sisters today. Putting it simply, those who imitate Christ in his letting go of self are attractive. People want to see them – just as the Greeks who approached Philip wanted to see Jesus. People want to spend time with them and learn how they have found such a solid ground in their lives and whether this might be possible for them too. (Remember how much popular culture turns around the idea of coming close to successful people in the hope that we might have a share in what they have.)

This is why this pattern – everyday holiness as Pope Francis has called it – is basic to all Christian living. It is our only path to happiness and the only path to the abundance of life for which we were made. It is also intrinsically missionary. We stand (or fall) as living sacraments, living visible signs, of the continuing presence of God with his people and for them.

Over the last few years we have, as a parish, become more conscious of being missionary disciples. The Gospel that we hear today reminds us that, ultimately, it is Jesus himself who calls men and women to follow him, and that he does so in a manner that is gentle and persistent. Our part is to be an attractive reminder – not in the form of assertion and pride, but in the love and humility that is exemplified by Christ crucified.

Mass Responses for the Fifth Sunday of Lent

ENTRANCE ANTIPHON: Give me justice, O God, and plead my cause against a nation that is faithless. From the deceitful and cunning rescue me, for you, O God, are my strength.

PSALM RESPONSE: A pure heart create for me, O God.

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION: Glory to you, O Christ, you are the Word of God! Whoever serves me must follow me, says the Lord; and where I am, there also will my servant be. Glory to you, O Christ, you are the Word of God!

COMMUNION ANTIPHON: Amen, Amen I say to you: Unless a grain of wheat falls to the ground and dies, it remains a single grain. But if it dies, it bears much fruit.

Appeal for Catholic bibles for prisoners

Our parish lives simply group is organising a collection of Catholic bibles at the request of the Catholic chaplain at HMP Downview, a prison for young offenders in Sutton. If you have a spare Catholic bible at home which you no longer use perhaps you could consider this might be a valuable gift to a prisoner, whose life may be transformed by it? Foreign language Catholic editions are also welcome. Please leave bibles at the back of church by 29th March so we can deliver the good news in time for Easter. Please note: we have been asked specifically for Catholic Bibles, as the prison receives bibles from the Gideon's and other organisations.

CATHOLIC BISHOPS' CONFERENCE OF ENGLAND AND WALES

Statement from the Presidency of the Bishops' Conference on the National Day of Reflection for COVID-19 Tuesday 23rd March 2021

We welcome the designation of Tuesday 23rd March as a National Day of Reflection to mark the anniversary of the first national lockdown with a minute's silence at midday and doorstep vigils of light at 8pm.

We ask you all to make this not only a Day of Reflection but also a Day of Prayer. In reflection we ponder on all that has taken place; in prayer we bring this to our Heavenly Father. For all who live by faith in God, reflection and prayer always go hand in hand. Prayer completes reflection. Reflection informs prayer. Prayer opens our life to its true horizon. Without prayer we live in a foreshortened world and are more easily swamped by its clamour and tragedy. Throughout this difficult year, so many have been inspired by prayer, so much effort sustained in prayer, in every place. So let us make the 23rd March truly a day of prayer.

March 2020 was the first time our churches had to be closed. It is our hope that on this day, every one of our churches will be open. We invite everyone to enter a church on this day, to reflect and pray in the presence of the Blessed Sacrament. We know this will involve an extra effort, but this can be part of our important contribution to a significant moment in the life of our country. Indeed, we ask that you might invite a friend, neighbour or colleague to come to church with you as you make this visit.

There is so much on which to reflect and include in our prayer.

We reflect in sorrow on all those who have died, whether family members, friends or those unknown to us personally. We pray for them, asking our Father to welcome them into their heavenly home, the destiny for which God first gave us the gift of life.

We reflect with compassion on all those who have suffered during this last year, whether through illness, stress, financial disaster or family tensions. We pray for their ongoing resilience, courage and capacity to forgive.

We reflect with thanksgiving for the generosity, inventiveness, self-sacrifice and determination shown by so many in this most difficult of times. We pray for them, thanking God for their gifts and dedication, whether they are scientists, politicians, health workers, public servants of every kind, community leaders or steadfast family members and friends who continue to show such love and compassion.

We reflect in hope that, as the pandemic is controlled and we open up our lives again, we will gather in the lessons we have learned and build our society into a better shape, more compassionate, less marked by inequalities, more responsive to needs and deprivation. We ask for the inspiration of the Holy Spirit to guide and strengthen us in this endeavour, whether we are focussing on overcoming family breakdowns, economic recovery, or building political consensus.

Christian prayer is, of course, centred on Jesus Christ, the one who is “lifted up” before us “so that everyone who believes may have eternal life in him” (John 3.13). We pray with Jesus, in him and through him, for he is the one who carries us, and our prayers, into the embracing presence of his Father. He is our comfort in sorrow, our strength in the face of need, our rejoicing in the gifts we celebrate and our hope in the face of the weighty darkness of death.

May Tuesday 23rd March be a great day of prayer that this pandemic comes to an end and that the gift of God’s Holy Spirit will carry us all forward to a new and better life, both here and in the world to come.
