Jesus Calling

I want you to know how safe and secure you are in My Presence. That is a fact, totally independent of your feelings. You are on your way to heaven; nothing can prevent you from reaching that destination. There you will see Me face-to-Face, and your Joy will be off the charts by any earthly standards. Even now, you are never separated from Me, though you must see Me through eyes of faith. I will walk with you till the end of time and onward into eternity.

Although My Presence is a guaranteed promise, that does not necessarily change your feelings. When you forget I am with you, you may experience loneliness or fear. It is through awareness of My Presence that Peace displaces negative feelings. Practice the discipline of walking consciously with Me through each day.

1 Corinthians 13:12; Psalm 29:11

Thank Me in the midst of the crucible. When things seem all wrong, look for growth opportunities. Especially look for areas where you need to let go, leaving your cares in My able hands. Do you trust Me to orchestrate your life events as I choose, or are you still trying to make things go according to your will? If you keep trying to carry out your intentions while I am leading you in another direction, you defy your desires. Be on the lookout for what I am doing in your life. Worship Me by living close to Me, thanking Me in all circumstances.

There is no other way—no good works, no alternate belief system, no religious affiliation, no heritage—by which sinful men can come to a holy God. The more our society rejects this truth, the more firmly we must hold to it. There is no compromise or accommodation that we can make so that the message becomes more acceptable because any such change destroys the message. And changing the gospel brings judgment on both those who hear the false message and those who spread it. “As we said before, so say I now again, If any man preach any other gospel unto you than that ye have received, let him be accursed” (Galatians 1:9).

We must hold fast to the message that Jesus Christ is the only way and hope of salvation.

Whosoever denieth the Son, the same hath not the Father: (but) he that acknowledgeth the Son hath the Father also. 1 John 2:23

Surveys show that religious pluralism—the idea that there are multiple, equally-correct ways to know God and have eternal life—is becoming increasingly widespread in our society. Many people have swallowed the lie that it doesn't matter what people believe because as long as they are sincere in their faith, God will accept them. That thought may be comforting to those who do not want to acknowledge the divinity of Jesus Christ and His exclusive offer of salvation, but it is tragically wrong. Believing this lie means they will reject their only chance of salvation.

Jesus made it clear that there was no other way to reach Heaven than by faith in Him. “Then said Jesus unto them again, Verily, verily, I say unto you, I am the door of the sheep. All that ever came before me are thieves and robbers: but the sheep did not hear them. I am the door: by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved, and shall go in and out, and find pasture” (John 10:7-9). Everyone who offers an alternative means of salvation is directing people toward Hell rather than Heaven.

The doctrine that salvation is through Jesus Christ alone is not popular, but it is true.
