Jesus Calling

Draw near to Me with a thankful heart, aware that your cup is overflowing with blessings. Gratitude enables you to perceive Me more clearly and to rejoice in our Love-relationship. Nothing can separate you from my loving Presence! That is the basis of your security. Whenever you start to feel anxious, remind yourself that your security rests in Me alone, and I am totally trustworthy.

You will never be in control of your life circumstances, but you can relax and trust in My control. Instead of striving for a predictable, safe lifestyle, seek to know Me in greater depth and breadth. I long to make your life a glorious adventure, but you must stop clinging to old ways. I am always doing something new within My beloved ones. Be on the lookout for all that I have prepared for you.

Romans 8:38-39 Psalm 56:3-4 Isaiah 43:3-4

I am your Father-God. Listen to Me! Learn what it means to be a child of the everlasting King. Your richest duty is devotion to Me. This duty is such a joyous privilege that it feels like a luxury. You tend to feel guilty about pushing back the boundaries of your life to make space for time alone with Me. The world is wafting to squeeze you into its mold and to crowd out time devoted to Me. The ways of the world have also warped your conscience, which punishes you for doing the very thing that pleases Me most, seeking My face. Listen to Me above the clamor of voices trying to distract you. Ask My Spirit to protect your mind, for He and I work in perfect harmony. Be still and attentive in My presence. You are on holy ground.

someone who has conquered death and the grave is a powerful hope. None of us knows how long our lives will be, but we do know what is coming. God has given us a sure guarantee of the future. Paul began his letter to Titus with an expression of this: "In hope of eternal life, which God, that cannot lie, promised before the world began" (Titus 1:2). We can be confident regarding the future—knowing that death is not the end for a Christian - because of the nature and character of God. He has given us the promise, and His promises are certain and sure.

The triumph of Jesus over death and the grave is the guarantee that our future destiny with Him is secure.

Closing Prayer

Behold, I shew you a mystery; We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed, In a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trump: for the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed. For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality.

1 Corinthians 15:51-53

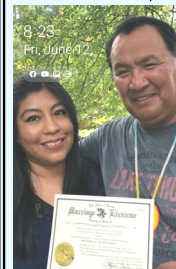

No doctrine of the Christian faith is more precious to us than the certain hope that one day we will see Jesus. Whether it be at the Rapture or when we die, we will immediately enter His presence to live with Him forever. All of the future depends on the truth that Jesus rose from the dead, and that by conquering death He guarantees our eternal life. Yet this blessed truth is hardly welcomed with open arms by the world. When Paul preached to the curious crowd in Athens, they were happy to listen to him until he got to the resurrection part of the gospel. "And when they heard of the resurrection of the dead, some mocked: and others said, We will hear thee again of this matter" (Acts 17:32).

We cannot enter God's presence as we are. We must be radically transformed even as believers before we can enter His holy presence. The promise of eternal life made by a man would be at best a comforting story to hear. But the promise of eternal life from
