Contemplative Prayer

This is adapted from "Common Prayer," a daily prayer resource by Shane Claiborne, Jonathan Wilson, and Enuma Okoro...

Over and over again scripture invites us to abide in God. To rest in God. To dwell in God.

Contemplative prayer is not just about activity and speaking but also about listening and resting in God. Many of us have grown up thinking of prayer as a checklist of requests to God, like giving a grocery list to someone headed to the store. Prayer is certainly about sharing our concerns and frustrations with God. Still, contemplative prayer goes deeper.

A primary purpose of prayer is to impress on us the personality and character of Christ. We want to become like Jesus, so the life we live in is no longer ours but Christ living in us and through us.

Prayer is less about trying to get God to do something we want God to do and more about getting ourselves to do what God wants us to do and to become who God wants us to become. There are times when we speak, weep, groan, or shout at God. But there are also times when we simply sit in silence and are held by the one who calls us Beloved. We remember the character of God, the fruit of the Spirit, and the incarnation of Jesus as he reveals to us what God is like with flesh on. And we pray that God's character will become our character. For many of us in the high-paced, cluttered world of materialism and noise, silence is a way we can free up space to listen to God.

In most of our lives, silence gets interrupted pretty quickly. Whether it's a knock at the door, a ding from our phone, or thoughts in our own heads, something always breaks the silence we long for in contemplative prayer. It is tempting to give up – to say that silence is not possible in our context or "I'm not cut out for this." But the wisdom of those who have gone before is helpful here. Teresa of Avila, who was distracted by her own thoughts in prayer, said she learned not to fight them but to let them come and go like waves in the sea, trusting that God was an anchor who could hold her through any storm.

Contemplation is about tending to the lines that anchor us in Christ. For Francis of Assisi, the San Damiano cross was one of those lines, serving as an icon to focus his prayer on Christ's love. It was in hours of prayer before this cross that he heard Jesus say, "Rebuild my church, which is in ruins," then he got up to start the most radical renewal movement in the Middle Ages. Service that builds up the Kingdom of God is rooted in prayer. If we want to join God in changing the world, the place to begin is on our knees before the cross.

San Damiano Cross

Why Did Jesus Die On A Cross?

You may be surprised!

Have you ever asked yourself, why did Jesus die on a cross? This is a vital question in our walk with Jesus. Come explore this question at a small group adult ed time starting in October. (Dates yet to be announced.)

This group will meet 5 times during October and November. All are welcome. We will be meeting in person and on zoom.

Blessing of the Animals

Bring a picture of your pet to worship

St. Francis of Assisi was known for his love of nature, and taught that one way we see God is through nature. In October, the church celebrates the feast day of St. Francis, the patron saint of animals and nature.

We too will be celebrating animals and nature at Dennison and Vang!

All are invited to bring pictures of their pets (either a print copy or on your cell phone) for a special "Blessing of the Animals" time during worship on October 3.

Oreo "Mr. Bunny" Graham says "Come celebrate creation on Oct. 4!"

Internship Update

We look forward to welcoming Al Aakre, the new Kenyon area intern, to Vang!

Al will be helping at the Lutefisk supper, and will be at Vang for worship on Oct. 10 and Oct. 31.

ELCA Youth Gathering

Preparations for the Youth Gathering are off to a good start. We have 13 people already signed up to participate! Fundraising and other preparations will begin soon.

Every three years, 30,000 high school youth and their adult leaders from across the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America gather for a week of faith formation known as the ELCA Youth Gathering. Through days spent in interactive learning, worship, Bible study, service and fellowship, young people grow in faith and are challenged and inspired to live their faith in their daily lives.

There is still time to sign up! If you or someone you know would like to participate in this transformative event, please let us know.

Welcome to Organist Abbey Kelly-Lanser

Abbey will be providing music for worship at Vang on October 3, and will play at Vang once a month. Abbey is a student at St. Olaf majoring in music. Welcome to you, Abbey!

Contemplative Prayer

Last spring, a group met to explore contemplative prayer practices. It was a meaningful and fruitful time together learning these ancient ways of prayer.

There will be contemplative prayer offered every third Wednesday of the month at 6:15 PM (prior to the monthly Evening Prayer at Dennison Lutheran.)

All are welcome to come to experience these life-giving and transformative ways to pray.

Notes from the Intern

Last Sunday, my wife Kari was excited to find her great-grandmother's 1931 confirmation photo still hanging at Hegre Lutheran. As we glanced through the other photos, the ever-changing styles and haircuts stood out to me—as did the ever-changing last names. A few surnames were familiar to the current congregation, but many were not. Each progressing photo brought something new and ushered something away. However, the confirmation photos were not only a good object lesson in change but also stewardship. After all, what is stewardship but stability through change. Every photo showed a different group inhabiting the same exact role. As stewards of a congregation, we are links in a chain that goes back to the first disciples of Christ. Two-thousand years of diligent care for the Gospel and God's called community.

Sometimes we equate stewardship with ownership and imagine a permanent bond between us and some larger entity. Yet, stewardship has little to do with permanency. Stewardship is the temporary care of something that will long outlive us (and yes, temporary can even mean a lifetime). When we are done using land and resources or belonging to a congregation, they don't just up and disappear. God calls a new steward to care for them. This is an endless cycle that we are blessed to be a part of. Ownership is caring for something because it is ours; stewardship is caring because the item is God's.

Each believer is called to seek out other Christians and worship together as a community, but the congregations that we build are never our own—they belong to God. Kari's great-grandmother eventually married and moved to Fairmont; the time and energy she gave to the congregation was replaced by another's. And although her role as a steward of Hegre was done, God was not done with Hegre. The congregation continues to share the Gospel of Christ Jesus, just as all of our congregations do. Names on our membership rolls come and go; there will be different pastors and interns, but our congregations continue.

Realizing our own role as stewards can take some of the pressure off of our lives. It is not all up to individuals or one family or one group to solve the congregation's problems. God is at work in our changing circumstances and is moving us not only to act but to prepare others to act in our absence. Just as faithful stewards of the earth are rewarded at harvest; faithful stewards of the church will be rewarded at the harvest to come.

If you have a chance to glance at the confirmation photos in your church, I would invite you to do so. Maybe you will see a teenage version of someone who taught you Scripture, Grace, or the basics of cemetery care. Maybe you will find someone who you in turn taught the same.

Bingo Night at Vang

Come out for bingo and a meal on Wednesday, Sept. 29!

One thing that makes our church special is a sense of community. This is a church where you can be yourself.

So every once in a while it's good to do something where we can enjoy each other's company.

All are invited to an evening of fun and community on Wednesday, September 29. The evening will begin with a meal at 5:30-6:30, followed by bingo from 6:30 – 7:30. All are welcome!

Stewardship

At a recent Vang council meeting we had just finished reviewing the previous month's income and expenses when one of the council members mentioned they had recently reviewed their Thrivent account and directed their Thrivent Choice Dollars toward Vang. There were several of us on the council that didn't know what that meant.

If you or anyone in your family has a Thrivent life, health or investment product, you may be able to direct Choice Dollars charitable grant funds to Vang. Each year, Thrivent allows its clients to identify how it will distribute a portion of its charitable giving, called Choice Dollars. By logging into your Thrivent account, you can select for your Thrivent Choice Dollars to go to Vang Lutheran Church.

The process of selecting Vang for your Thrivent Choice Dollars is simple and only takes a few minutes. Go to www.Thrivent.com and login (or create your Thrivent account using your Thrivent ID from a recent Thrivent Statement). Look for the section called "Thrivent Choice," and click on the Direct Choice Dollars link to see if you're eligible and set up Vang as your Choice Dollars recipient. It's that easy!

It takes 10 minutes or less to set up Vang as the recipient of your Thrivent Choice Dollars, but the impact can be significant! If you have a Thrivent policy or product, please consider directing your Choice Dollars to Vang. It is an easy way for Vang to receive additional funds from Thrivent each year, and contribute to supporting Vang's mission.

Songs OF MY LIFE

Songs of My Life – The first of these innovative worship gatherings will be this Sunday. Let's get Songs of My Life off to a strong start in our community.

The Songs of My Life Gathering is open to anyone who is seeking connection. People are invited to gather to share stories, songs and space with each other. In this way we grow together.

Come experience this new way to be together in God's name.

This description is from the "Songs of My Life" website:

"In Songs of My Life gatherings, our goal is to hear honest testimonies and share ours, sing favorite songs and remember the love in the world, take the hand of our neighbor and feel the peace and understanding of our fellowship. This is a "we" fellowship, it is through our shared experience and our ability to connect with others and the world around us that we have found joy and freedom.

Songs of My Life is a movement that began through work in local churches and in the recovery community. 2021 is the fourth year of gatherings."
