A NOTE FROM THE PASTOR

Church family,

This Sunday begins our second week of walking through the book of Ruth. Why spend four weeks going through an entire book of the Bible? I believe there is tremendous value in studying passages in the order they are written. There are multiple examples in scripture of people teaching whole books of the Bible. Studying chapters and verses in the order they are written also help us learn the bigger context and story of the Bible. It's important for us to see how each chapter and verse build upon and connect to one another. Every verse, chapter and book point to a grand storyline with Jesus at the center. There's a moment in the book of Luke where Jesus points this out to a couple of His disciples. On the road to Emmaus He explains to them how all scripture points to Him at its center. We want to see the Bible like Jesus did and see Him at its center.

Pastor Dawjr
