Jesus Calling

Pour all of your energy into trusting Me. It is through trust that you stay connected to Me, be aware of My Presence. Every step on your life-journey can be a step of faith. Baby steps of trust are simple for you; you can take them with almost unconscious ease. Giant steps are another matter altogether: leaping across chasms in semidarkness, scaling cliffs of uncertainty, trudging through the valley of the shadow of death. These feats require sheer concentration, as well as utter commitment to Me.

Each of My children is a unique blend of temperament, giftedness, and life experiences. Something that is a baby step for you may be a giant step for another person, and vice versa. Only I know the difficulty or ease of each segment of your journey. Beware of trying to impress others by acting as if your giant steps are only baby ones. Do not judge others who hesitate in trembling fear before an act that would be easy for you. If each of My children would seek to please Me above all else, fear of others' judgements would vanish, as would attempts to impress others. Focus your attention on the path just ahead of you and on the One who never leaves your side.

death and hell is a wonder of compassion which fills angels with amazement, and it ought to overwhelm us with adoring love whenever we think of it, glance our eye over the recording pages, or even utter the word redemption."

A Christian who forgets the lengths to which God went to provide his salvation is apt to be complacent and lax in his obedience and service. When we recognize the price that was paid for grace to be extended to us and the reason for it, it should fill our hearts with both gratitude and a firm resolve to live up to the great privileges we have been given as children of God.

We must never lose sight of the price that was paid for our salvation or fail to gratefully live to honor the One who paid it.

Praying For The Harvest

Dr. Paul Chappell

Being justified freely by his grace through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus: Whom God hath set forth to be a propitiation through faith in his blood, to declare his righteousness for the remission of sins that are past, through the forbearance of God; To declare, I say, at this time his righteousness: that he might be just, and the justifier of him which believeth in Jesus.

Romans 3:24-26

Orachorn Ayudhya did not have a driver's license, but she did not let that stop her from getting behind the wheel. The teenager was also texting while she drove through Bangkok, Thailand, and hit a bus. The resulting accident left nine people dead. But because Ayudhya's family was wealthy and well-connected, she only received a two-year prison sentence. Even that was replaced by a three-year probation. Amazingly, the family appealed even this lenient sentence, but it was upheld by Thailand's Supreme Court. No one could possibly say that justice was done in that case.

God could not let sinners off with just a warning and still be a just and holy God. But in the sacrifice of Jesus Christ, the full demands of justice are met. Our salvation is free to us, but it came at great cost to Jesus. Charles Spurgeon said, "That the blood of Christ was shed to buy our souls from
