Dear Friends,

This past month my son and I went to Honduras. What a wonderful opportunity to see how some of the Central American people live. There were pigs and skinny dogs everywhere. There were children, children, and more children everywhere. There were roosters and chickens also walking around but the thing that impressed me most was the ways of the Honduran people. We drove up to one village and most people knew our leaders. They were friendly and outspoken, however, at another site they didn't. I saw the fear in the faces of the people. They hid and were afraid to look and meet new people. Some of the people there live very sheltered lives. They usually don't see new faces where they live. They are so poor they must farm the land which is difficult and stony, and the people mostly eat rice, beans, and eggs. (The Honduran diet leaves something to be desired!) The men are hard workers, and the children watch their siblings while the moms take care of the home, make baskets, and/or bead jewelry to survive.

The unconditional love and decency of the people was amazing. The people are so poor, and they don't have time for x box, television programs, or other frivolities. Most of them don't have a television let alone electricity! What a delight to see a "people" who are so open to the Gospel of Jesus and willing to set aside time to hear about Him with no doubts or agendas. I learned a lot about my faith and realized how blessed I was to live in a land where we have "Freedom."

Let's not forget how blessed we are as we enter 2022. God has blessed us so let us go on to bless others by showing the Love of Jesus by our actions! Let us always remember!

Sincerely,
Joanne Lorenzo

GATHERING PLACE COFFEEHOUSE

Once a month we hosted a Coffeehouse for people who wanted to share their gifts and talents. Last November, Pam Perrin graced us with her wonderful voice and Robert Johnson, her father, accompanied her on the guitar! They played and sang a couple sets and then opened it up to the community to share their talents. This Friday February 4, 2022, there is an open microphone where people can share their gifts and talents while enjoying some snacks and drinks. Bring your friends and family. It's FREE!
