Grace and Peace Oakhurst Family,

Who ever thought we'd be starting off 2022 with the cloud of Covid still hanging over our heads? This is not what we'd planned but that is no excuse for not making plans. We still have power by the blood of Christ Jesus. We still have God as our Creator, Author, and Finisher of our collective faiths. We have the Holy Spirit standing with and for us every single day. Though we certainly have challenges ahead we must find strength in God and be grateful. We must live in total gratitude. Can you find something for which you are grateful today?

I am grateful for a new office administrator in 2021. Cheryl Hartman has been a blessing to the staff and the congregation and works so hard to keep us all in communication.

I am grateful for Mary Smarr, our clerk of session. The session has had to operate in new and innovative ways because of the pandemic. We have had to go 100% virtual and Mary has worked to ensure that nothing slips through the cracks.

I am grateful for the building and grounds team! 2021 was extremely challenging for them. Water damage in an old building is a beast, time consuming, and full of unwanted surprises. They have handled them all to the best of their resources and ability.

I am grateful for the worship team, staff, sound and video team, music, and finance team. They had to make almost instant changes at times when Covid numbers shot through the roof. Every time a change was made, they had to quickly respond. Outdoor worship, indoor worship, Zoom worship, pre-recorded worship all offer a unique set of needs, none of which are simple.

I am grateful for the Covid Team. This is a tough assignment! I repeat, this is a tough assignment. Hearts, heads, and souls came into one space, to pray, think, and make extremely hard decisions. They knew these decisions would affect you and your family and they never lost sight of that.

I cannot name everyone but lastly and all inclusively, I am grateful for you. You have remained faithful, supportive, connected, prayerful, and hopeful. Our collective gratitude will sustain us. For what are you grateful today?

DECEMBER 9, 2021 SESSION MEETING

The Session heard a report from the auditor of financial records for the year ending December 31, 2019, that no deficiencies in internal controls that were considered material weaknesses were identified. We are moving away from the PO Box. Please address/change any mail you have coming to the church to 118 Second Avenue, Decatur, GA 30030.

Dear OPC, on behalf of the Covid team.

It is with deep concern for the health and wellness of our congregation and community that we have decided to go back to online worship at least through January. The Omicron variant has caused record numbers of Covid cases and we have deemed it unsafe to gather in the sanctuary at this time. Rev. Barbee

"In the late 1930s, civil war gripped Spain. When General Franco and his Fascists succeed in overthrowing the government, hundreds of thousands are forced to flee in a treacherous journey over the mountains to the French border. Among them is Roser, a pregnant young widow, who finds her life irreversibly intertwined with that of Victor Dalmau, an army doctor and the brother of her deceased love."

No one would have ever believed that we would have experienced so much change in our lives since March 2020. Surely we would be free by now, free from pandemic, free from racial discord, free from recreating the way we even go to the grocery store, free from being forced to look at a computer all day, free from not being able to see our family and friends, but we are not. How in the world do we get to a place of freedom? We turn to the word of God. Join us as we Journey through the Psalms (JTTP) where God gives us full permission to feel, to grieve, to scream, and to have hope, peace, joy, and love.. Click here for Syllabus

The Outreach Committee's survey of the congregation found that our members want to assist in addressing hunger needs in our community. Outreach is studying ways the whole congregation can help to alleviate hunger. Stay tuned!

In December, Reverend Barbee, representing Oakhurst's Outreach efforts, purchased and delivered food to international students at Columbia Theological Seminary. Many of these students experience difficulty sourcing foods from their homelands. Columbia is starting a food bank stocking international ingredients and Oakhurst is partnering with them. This is one way that the Outreach Committee is focusing on local food needs.

Climate Crisis Corner

There is good news regarding the climate crisis we are confronting. It is good news that every faithful action we take to reduce our carbon pollution makes significant positive impacts for generations to come. Our individual actions are cumulative and together our impact will be large like the many grains of sand that make a beach. It is good news that there appears to be an awakening of popular opinion regarding the reality of climate change and its threat to life on Earth. LED for You

Would you like to save some money by lowering your electricity bill and, at the same time, reduce your carbon footprint? Your CreationWise team, with funding from the Georgia Interfaith Power and Light (GIPL) and the Gould Art sale, has a plan to help you do that, called LED for You. This project will help you begin, or complete, your transition to LED lighting for your home.

To get this program started, we're rolling it out to seniors in our church family first. A CreationWise team member will make an appointment for an evaluation visit. We want to find out your wants regarding brightness and color temperature and, of course, get a count of how many LED bulbs are needed. The second visit will be the installation visit. There is no cost to you. Contact John Baldwin or Kathy Hancock to get started,

Creation Wise Tip - Contributed by John Baldwin

One way to help the environment is to use alternative means of transportation. Marta is an alternative that is accessible to all of us that live in metro Atlanta. Make a commitment this New Year to take Marta as an alternative to driving at least once a month.

To make it easy for you to jump on a bus or a train at a moment's notice do these two things first. Buy a Marta Breeze card. You can purchase them at any Marta Rail station. For those 65 and older and/or on Medicare you can also purchase a reduced fare Breeze card at a Marta store. You can find their locations on Marta's website. Regular fare is $2.50 and reduced fare is $1.00.

Second, download the Marta on the Go app on your phone. With the app you can quickly check schedules for buses and trains and also see in real time the location of any bus. With your Breeze card and Marta app you're all set. Avoid the traffic; leave your car at home. Hop on a bus or train and arrive at your destination stress free.
