CASSIE LEE STUMPF, daughter of Lori & Steve Stumpf was diagnosed last April, just after her 36th birthday with invasive ductal carcinoma. Unfortunately, this is an incredibly aggressive form of cancer and although she underwent two surgeries and treatment, it has now metastasized throughout her skeleton, progressing to stage 4. There are many different treatment options available, but not all are covered by insurance. These occasions ranged from military inspections at Fort Niagara to private holidays at Niagara Falls, from campaign speeches to personal tragedies and other reasons. The program includes side stories to some of these events as well as historic photographs. The presenter is Anne Marie Linaberry.
