

*Covenant is an accepting, welcoming community
sharing the glory of God's love with all.*

From our pastor

"You are the light of the world...Let your light shine before others, so that they may see your good works and give glory to your Father in heaven." Matthew 5:14, 16

Frederick Douglas said that it's easier to build strong children than to repair broken men, and of course, he's right. Jesus is in the business of doing both. He begins the Sermon on the Mount with reparative work. He blesses those painful and shameful experiences of our lives: poverty of spirit, sorrow, injustice, and persecution—all the things we imagine would exclude us from God's blessing, Jesus says those belong too. As his sermon continues, Jesus proceeds to build strong children by stating that our identity is fundamentally good. Sadly, the dominant form of Christianity has said the job of the preacher is to cut people down to size. Humans, we are told, are by nature so sinful and proud that they first need to be told how bad they are. Only then will the grace of God shine forth. Yet Jesus doesn't subscribe to this approach. He wants us to know exactly how God sees us, to tell us who we really are: "You are the light of the world." This verse always stops me in my tracks. It feels like too much. I'm much more comfortable with John 8:12, in which Jesus says, "I am the light of the world." That makes sense to me. If Jesus is the light of the world, then it's our job to reflect his light. Yet in Matthew, Jesus doesn't say, "You reflect the light of the world." He says, "You are the light of the world." We don't merely reflect the light that is outside of us. The divine light also shines within you. The very first thing God creates in the Genesis story is light, and God calls the light good (Gen 1:3-4). In the beginning of Jesus' ministry, he is telling us that same light shines in us. You don't need to live up to some law or standard to be good in God's eyes. You're good simply because God said so. Though you may have been told differently by parents, pastors, and the world at large, their vote no longer matters. All that matters is how God sees you and how you see you, and Jesus came to tell you that when you walk into the room, God's face lights up with delight. You are the light of the world. Shine on.

One Struggle to Love,
Rev. Joel A. Esala

DONATE METAL WATER BOTTLES for those who visit the OPEN SHELTER

Thank you for donating stainless steel water bottles with sturdy carrying loops for the people who visit the Open Shelter! Reach out to Cathy Levy with your questions; she answers a few of them, below:

Question: Why stainless steel?

Answer: We've learned that stainless steel bottles are healthier to drink from; also, they are easier to clean.

Question: What do you mean by "sturdy carrying loops"?

Answer: See the picture; each bottle's lid includes a sturdy loop for hooking your fingers through or hooking a carabiner hook through.

Question: What is a carabiner hook?

Answer: A metal loop with a spring-loaded gate used to quickly and reversibly connect components. In this case, with the loop on a water bottle, a carabiner hook helps people attach the bottle's loop to their belt loop or backpack strap (see the picture).

Question: Must we donate a carabiner hook too?

Answer: No, we'll buy boxes full of those and add them to each water bottle to make it convenient for all. If you do decide to donate hooks, make sure they are sturdy with a strong spring.

Question: Where do I put my donation of bottles?

Answer: Put them in the marked bin in Covenant's Donation Center, which is in the coat closet closest to the main entrance to the sanctuary.

Question: When will you take them to the Open Shelter?

Answer: For decades, we take 175 sacked lunches to the Open Shelter on the second Friday of the month. Included in these deliveries, we bring drinks, including bottled water. The availability of high quality stainless steel water bottles will reduce the demand for bottled water, thus improving the impact on the environment. Reusable bottles are preferred by many over disposable! We take them with our monthly delivery of the lunches.

The Open Shelter is an Advocacy Center & Day Services Shelter for homeless and marginally-housed people in Central Ohio.

The need for clothing for homeless individuals and families in Central Ohio is greater than ever. CPW has supported Crazy Faith Ministry, founded and led by Rev. Men

White cotton socks in packages
White underpants in packages
White undershirts in packages

Women

White cotton socks in packages
White or pale underpants in packages
White or pale camisoles in packages

All donations should be new and if not purchased in packages, please leave price tags on and put them in zip lock bags. It is important that we provide new clean items.

We invite the members of the congregation to participate as they wish. This project will begin Sunday, February 5th and conclude on Sunday, February 26th. There will be a large box in the atrium marked CPW Crazy Faith Ministry donations.

Amazon description: "Bassam Aramin is Palestinian. Rami Elhanan is Israeli. They inhabit a world of intractable conflict that colors every aspect of their daily lives, from the roads they are allowed to drive on, to the schools their daughters, Abir and Smadar, each attend, to the checkpoints, both physical and emotional, they must negotiate. Their worlds shift irreparably after ten-year-old old Abir is killed by a rubber bullet and thirteen-year-old Smadar becomes the victim of suicide bombers. When Bassam and Rami learn of each other's stories, they recognize the loss that connects them, and they attempt to use their grief as a weapon for peace."

DID YOU KNOW?

Every year, millions of men, women, and children are trafficked worldwide – including right here in the United States. It can happen in any community and victims can be any age, race, gender, or nationality. Traffickers might use the following methods to lure victims into trafficking situations:

- Violence
- Manipulation
- Romantic relationships
- False promises of well-paying jobs

Opportunity to Serve by Providing Lunch through the OPEN SHELTER

Do you want to do hands-on mission once a month or occasionally? We would love to welcome new people to the Open Shelter Lunch Making Team!

Covenant helps out people in need (including people who are homeless and marginally-housed) served by the Open Shelter by providing 175 sack lunches on the second Friday of every month. *Join us! You could help by shopping, pre-assembling, preparing on Friday morning, and/or delivering on Friday morning (see below for details). Our next delivery date is Friday, February 10th or you can help in any future month. We particularly need help with SHOPPING at this point in the year, as some of our top shoppers take winter vacations. Let us know if you can help; it's fun, and shopping can fit into your schedule that week.

Here are ways to join in:

- Anytime, donate sturdy, stainless-steel water bottles with a loop that participants can use to carry water easily. Drop your donations off in the marked bin within Covenant's Donation Center, which is in the coat closet nearest the sanctuary. We're hoping to provide more safe, cleanable water bottles to reduce the impact on the environment of disposable water bottles and to support a sustainable future.
- Anytime, you could drop off your clean, lidded take-out containers (reusable disposable food containers) to shelving on the counter under the windows of Covenant's kitchen. We take them to the Open Shelter to help people take home leftovers from donated restaurant meals. When these meals are donated, people are encouraged to take sack lunches with them to-go as well.
- You could help with supplies for the sack lunches; we would let you know the quantity, and you'd deliver them to Covenant's kitchen by the Thursday before the delivery day (church closes at 4pm) or by the second Friday of the month at 8:00, when we assemble the sack lunches. The costs for these supplies may be reimbursed by submitting your receipts to our Financial Administrator, Tanvi Bhowmik. Ways to help include:

- You could shop for supplies (like paper bags and napkins from GFS, drinks, plastic bags, sandwich makings, bananas...)
- You could make 45 or 90 bags of unsalted nuts at your home.
- You could make 45 or 90 bags of baby carrots at your home.
- You could make 30 Peanut Butter and Jelly sandwiches at your home.
- You could help make 160 ham and cheese sandwiches with the team at Covenant's kitchen, and then assemble the lunches into paper bags and pack them in boxes and into a car (or two) between 8:00 and 9:10 am on the second Friday of the month.
- You could transport the lunches and other supplies from Covenant to the Open Shelter on Parsons Ave. by 9:30 on the second Friday of the month. This takes either two drivers or one driver with a larger hatchback car or minivan.

By splitting up the work, we can get more people involved sharing the Love of Christ in our community.

Questions? We would love to answer them! Would you like to join us in one or more of these ways? Fantastic! Please contact us to discuss this and/or sign up at covenant@covenantpcusa.org.

In Christ,
Betsy Sebastian, Mona Connolly, and Carrie Mellen
